1. [REDACTED] was officially assigned to NEA/OCI on 22 October 1952 and worked in the Arab States Branch until 13 March 1953, when he was reassigned for further training.

2. The work performed by [REDACTED] during his official assignment to OCI was of high calibre. He showed a keen interest in the many problems of the area and rapidly developed a good working knowledge of the region.

3. During the period he was working for OCI, Mr. [REDACTED] individually was assigned a number of projects which required considerable research. His research efforts seemed to be intensive and thorough, and his finished work was generally of high calibre.

4. The excellent performance shown by [REDACTED] while with OCI would seem to qualify him--particularly after additional training in the area--for a regular assignment to the NEA region within CIA.
